

Dear Guests and Friends of the Bayreuth Festival,

Today we are happy to send you the Programme of the Bayreuth Festival 2022.

The Bayreuth Festival opens on 25 July with a new production of "Tristan und Isolde" conducted by Cornelius Meister and directed by Roland Schwab. On 31 July the curtain goes up for the long-awaited "Ring des Nibelungen" directed by Valentin Schwarz, conducted by Pietari Inkinen.

In addition to the new productions, the works "Tannhäuser" and "Der fliegende Holländer" will be performed with a final performance of "Lohengrin". Star conductor Andris Nelsons will end the Festival Season with two concerts in the Festival Theatre.

The promising "Diskurs Bayreuth" series is offering the first-ever Festspiel Open Air musical events in a relaxed, picnic-like atmosphere on two summer evenings with artists from the Bayreuth Festival. Admission is free. More details will be coming soon.

"Nach Tristan", an evening between Richard Wagner and Heiner Müller, who explores the path from "Tristan und Isolde" to Quartett, is an opportunity to experience Dagmar Manzel and Sylvester Groth at "Kulturbühne Reichshof" with text by both authors and music by Wagner, arranged by Ingo Kerkhof and Gerhard Ahrens.

On 9 August 2022 at Goldbergsee you can take part in another Taff Festival Night.

We are happy to take your orders from now until April 15. Here you can find the order documents, an overview of the programme \(also available as a print version\), seating and prices.
