JANE MATHEWS

Jane Mathews (19.12.1940 - 31.8.2019) was a passionate music lover, a great Australian, and a trailblazer for women in the legal profession: she was one of the first 10 women to study law at the University of Sydney and be admitted to the NSW Bar in the 1960's, the first woman to be appointed Crown Solicitor in 1978, the first woman to be appointed Judge in NSW, in 1980, and the first woman to be appointed Judge to the NSW Supreme Court, in 1987. Throughout her career, she was a champion of anti-discrimination legislation and a universally respected jurist throughout Australian legal circles.

Jane discovered Wagner and his music several decades ago and was keen to share her enthusiasm for his operas amongst her numerous friends. She had a number of records, particularly of the Ring, and held many parties which would feature sessions listening to Wagner's music. Guests would provide contributions of food and of course there was also wine to increase their enjoyment.

She enjoyed going to Bayreuth to meet other enthusiasts in the network of Wagner-lovers. She was elected President of the NSW Wagner Society (2010 - 2017) in recognition of her commitment. Her contacts in Australia and around the world were always encouraged to come and talk to our Society. Jane had been ill for a period and her death is a relief from pain. We will remember her as a great enthusiast for music, a long-term supporter of organisations such as the Sydney Symphony and Opera Australia, an extremely generous donor to music in Australia and a committed lover of Wagner's operas.

MAESTRO ANTHONY NEGUS

Anthony Negus studied clarinet and piano at the Royal College of Music London, and gained a music degree at Oxford University. He has worked with many opera companies and has a wide opera and concert repertoire. Working with the legendary Wagnerian conductor and coach Sir Reginald Goodall in the 1970s and 80s was a formative and highly influential period which led to his conducting Parsifal and Tristan und Isolde; and then assisting Sir Richard Armstrong, Das Rheingold, Siegfried and Götterdämmerung. He has conducted Parsifal for the New Zealand Symphony Orchestra in Wellington, and in Lübeck, Germany; after working with Vladimir Jurowski, Die Meistersinger von Nürnberg for Glyndebourne. Over many years as Music Director of Longborough Festival Opera, he has established himself as one of the most perceptive and original conductors of the Wagner repertoire, culminating in the highly acclaimed Ring Cycle in 2013, followed by Tristan und Isolde, Tannhäuser, and Die Zauberflöte. The 2017 revival of Tristan und Isolde prompted unprecedented critical and audience acclaim.

In Melbourne, Anthony Negus conducted Melbourne Opera's Tristan und Isolde in 2018 and The Flying Dutchman in 2019. He was the Society's first guest in 2019.

THE CONCERT

In late 2019 Maestro Anthony Negus had very generously offered to contribute a musical evening in honour of his recently deceased close friend and the Society's Past President Jane Mathews and it came to fruition in a remarkable concert on 27 February. Anthony was greatly assisted by his wife Carmen Jakobi and the programme was selflessly organised by the Wagner Society's past Vice president and recently appointed Artists' Liaison Leona Geeves, who recruited five exceptional singers. Anthony's commitment to nurturing young voices is very admirable and the Wagner Society in NSW is proud of the sponsorship and support it continues to give to young dramatic singers.

Eleanor Greenwood is now well established and we were honoured by her participation. She demonstrated her solid technique, beauty of tone and commitment to bringing out the full meaning of her characters' emotions.

Laura Scandizzo was one of Jane's favourite singers and she never disappoints with her strong stage presence and confidence. She brought the concert to an ecstatic conclusion with Isolde's Liebestod. This had followed on without a break from the Schubert Adagio played by Anthony – a fascinating and unexpected combination.

Emily Turner stepped in to perform at very short notice when Pamela Andrews was indisposed. Emily has a delightful bright and fresh voice and performed Marx's paeon to post-coital bliss with aplomb.

Hamish James is a real treasure – barely into his twenties he broke our hearts with his deeply felt interpretations of the Strauss lieder.

Timothy Nunn took control of the hall, equally at home with the passion of the Song to the Evening Star and the song by inebriated Father from Hänsel und Gretel

In conclusion; Nearly 100 members and friends were treated to a concert that would have greatly pleased Jane – sharing wonderful music and encouraging the next generation. Thanks again to Anthony, Carmen, Leona, Eleanor, Laura, Emily, Hamish and Timothy.
